New U.S. Crime Panel Named

Katzenbach Gets Chairman's Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson set up today a national crime commission headed by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach and named 18 other members of the commission.

Johnson said the commission's work "will be the first systematic, nationwide study ever made of the entire spectrum of crime problems, ranging from its causes at one extreme to arrest and rehabilitation at the other."

Johnson called on the commission to make a comprehensive report to him in 18 months and to make interim reports whenever it has recommendations ready.

Known officially as the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, the commission will study crime throughout the nation and recommend ways to reduce and prevent it.

Members of the commission, in addition to Katzenbach, are: Mrs. Genevieve Blatt, former deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania.

Judge Charles D. Breitell, justice of the New York State Supreme Court, Appellate Division.

Kingman Brewster Jr., president of Yale University.

Garrett Byrne, district attorney, Suffolk County, Mass.

Thomas J. Cahill, chief of police, San Francisco.

Otis Chandler, publisher, Los Angeles Times.

Leon Jaworski, Houston, Tex., attorney and former president of the American College of Trial Lawyers.

Thomas Lynch, attorney general of California.

Priest Found Dead On Eve of Farewell

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP) — The farewell party for a parish priest ended tragically Sunday night when the Rev. William Hackett was found dead at his home.

Father Hackett, 46, pastor of St. George parish and St. Michael's Church at nearby Mount Orab for eight years, was being transferred to Cincinnati. When he did not show up for the open house, several parishioners went to his home and found him dead on the floor.

A doctor at the open house said Father Hackett, a native of London, Ohio, had died of an apparent heart attack.

Migrants' Kids Given Special Free Tutoring

ARVIN, Calif. (AP) — While migrant workers harvest crops in California's Kern County, 26 college students are sowing the seeds of learning among the workers' underprivileged children.

It's catching. Older children and parents are beginning to drop by the labor camp school after work.

When the workers and their older children — 12 and up — leave the Arvin farm labor supply center camp to pick in nearby fields, the younger children stay behind.

With them are 26 young men and women from the University of California at Los Angeles, most of them earning $121 for the summer's work, financed by

GOP Governors Study Rocky's No-Run Status

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The nation's Republican governors found themselves in a new 1968 presidential ball game today following Nelson A. Rockefeller's announcement that he will not seek the GOP nomination again.

Rockefeller's announcement Sunday appeared to have removed the kind of roadblock that kept other Republican moderates out of the contest against conservative Barry Goldwater until the final month of the 1964 pre-convention campaign.

The Republican governors, here for the annual governors conference, breakfast today with GOP National Chairman Ray Bliss.

Their Democratic counterparts, meeting with John M. Bailey, the national chairman of their party, found themselves juggling a perennial problem, civil rights. It arose when Gov. Karl F. Roalvaag of Minnesota moved to get a conference statement pledging efforts to uphold civil and human rights.

The annual conference gets under way with a luncheon at which Mexican Ambassador Hugo B. Margain will speak. Margain said in a prepared speech that Mexico needs freer exchange of goods with the United States.

Tuesday the governors turn to such problems as state financing, legislative reapportionment and educational programs.

Politics held the primary attention today, with indications that controversy may spill over into the foreign field. Republicans were taking issue with the trend of President Johnson's policies in Viet Nam.

In removing himself from consideration for the presidential nomination, Rockefeller reiterated his intention to seek a third term as governor of New York.

He said his withdrawal from the national scene will be an asset to moderates seeking to reunite the party.

"To pull the party together, I think it is best to pull out," he said.

Rockefeller said he didn't think two other Republican governors often mentioned as the 1968 presidential nominee, George Romney of Michigan and William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, should rule themselves out of the race.

Said Scranton, who lost last year to Barry Goldwater: "I haven't given any thought whatsoever on 1968 and I don't intend to do so for a long time."

Romney commented: "We should be concentrating on 1966 and forget about 1968."

6 Children Drown at Family Picnic

BOONE, Iowa (AP) — A Sunday picnic at the Ledges State Park southeast of here ended in the drowning death of six children, members of two central Iowa families.

Drowned while wading in Peace Creek Ripple, a section of the Des Moines River which runs through the Ledges Park, were Richard Erwin, 10, his brothers, Steven, 9, and Douglas, 5, and Raymond Schoenbaum, 13, and his sister, Connie, 10, and Rose, 9.

Parents of the children were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Erwin of Des Moines and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schoenbaum of Ames. Erwin is Mrs. Schoenbaum's brother.

Mrs. Schoenbaum said the families had been picnicking and the children asked if they could wade up the river. She told them not to, but "they apparently did not mind," she said.

Four teen-agers saw the children in the water, and made a vain attempt to save them when they realized the youngsters were in trouble.

All of the bodies were recovered within several hours.

Whale Brings Traffic Jam

MOUNT VERNON, Wash. (AP) — There was a whale of a traffic jam at nearby Deception Pass Sunday. Namu arrived.

The four-ton killer whale, who swam into a fisherman's net at Namu, B.C., and is being towed in a pen to a Seattle aquarium, passed through the pass at 8:45 p.m.

The crowd began gathering about 2 p.m., the state patrol reported.

"It got to the point where people had to park and walk almost a mile to get to the bridge in order to see," said trooper Bob Erhart.

The pass is at the north end of Whidbey Island, a few miles northwest of here and about 70 miles from Seattle, where Namu is due Tuesday.

Possible Red Missile In Viet War Studied

U.S. Strategy Talks Resume

No Decision Date Announced Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson continued today his deliberations on a possible buildup of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam.

One matter under study was the blasting of an American jet bomber over North Viet Nam by what U.S. officials said appeared to be a ground-to-air missile.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said no formal conferences were scheduled, but the President would confer during the day, by telephone and perhaps in person, with various officials.

Johnson and his top advisers spent three days last week discussing the war in Viet Nam, and the President continued his consultations during a weekend at Camp David, Md.

Dr. Sam Wins 30-Day Stay For Appeal

CINCINNATI (AP) — The U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals granted Dr. Samuel Sheppard a 30-day stay today in its mandate for his return to Ohio Penitentiary.

The stay, effective for 30 days from today, is to allow Sheppard's attorneys time to go to the U. S. Supreme Court with an appeal from a recent court of appeals decision. It ordered Sheppard's return to prison to resume serving a life sentence for the slaying in 1954 of his first wife.

Sheppard has been free since July 1964 on order of U. S. District Judge Carl Weinman of Dayton who ruled the former Cleveland Osteopath had not received a fair trial. The appeals court reversed Weinman's decision last May.

Sheppard and his present wife the former Ariane Tebbenjohanns of Germany, have been living in Rocky River, a Cleveland suburb.

Sheppard was convicted of second-degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment in 1954 after a sensational trial. The handsome former society osteopath has continued to maintain his innocence and said he is willing to stand trial again on the original first-degree murder charge that could bring the death penalty.

Probe Is Started In Trawler Blast

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Coast Guard today began a formal inquiry into the death of the trawler Snoopy, blown to matchsticks Friday night by a torpedo dredged up from the ocean floor.

A sea hearing, mandatory in all sea disasters, will be held soon but Coast Guard spokesmen said no date has yet been set.

Only four members of the Snoopy's 12-man crew survived the blast, 41 miles off False Cape on North Carolina's Outer Banks.

All of them are in satisfactory condition at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital here.

Only three bodies have been recovered.

Water Skier Injured By Hit-Skip Boater

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police are looking for a hit-skip boater who does not like water skiers.

Paul Holden, 33, Milford, told officers Sunday another boater made two passes and deliberately hit his rope while he was water skiing on the Little Miami River. Holden suffered a possible right shoulder dislocation.

Busy Calendar Faces Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor, housing, health care and reapportionment legislation top this week's busy calendar on Capitol Hill.

The House braced for a showdown fight on a key administration bill which would repeal legislation permitting states to outlaw the union shop.

Tuesday's vote on the Taft-Hartley union shop amendment was viewed as a major test by the administration's forces, who acted as though they had enough votes nailed down for victory.

The House also planned to vote Tuesday on the housing bill and a compromise version of the administration's $6.4-billion program of health care for the elderly financed through Social Security.

A Senate vote was expected today on a compromise version of the administration's $7.5-billion housing bill, which includes a controversial new program of rental subsidies for low-income families.

The Senate also was slated to vote today on the nomination of former Mississippi Gov. James P. Coleman to be judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in the Deep South. Some critics contend Coleman has a segregationist background which disqualifies him for the post.

President Johnson's nomination

Johnson Adds New Aide to His Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's new special assistant is a Defense Department troubleshooter who says he really isn't sure what his White House chores will involve.

Joseph A. Califano Jr., 34, was appointed by the President Saturday as assistant to coordinate legislative programs.

"I have an idea I'll be working on the legislative program, directing it and so forth," the young Brooklyn native said today in an interview. "And the President also told me I'd help on some legal problems."

"But, actually, I haven't been over to the White House yet," he added, "so I don't know."

Califano — pronounce it "Calif-fono" — has been special assistant to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and served as chief troubleshooter in matters involving Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and the Selma, Ala., racial crisis.

The President first contacted him after Bill D. Moyers was named press secretary to replace George Reedy.

"Actually I'm Bill's replacement," Califano said. "And I hope to be able to do as good a job as Bill has done in the legislative area. He's been just fantastic."

Castro Gains In Popularity

Cubans Like Fidel, Shun Communism

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro, commemorating today the barracks battle that launched his rise to power, seems solidly entrenched on his island domain.

On July 26, 1953 Castro led an ill-fated assault on the Moncada army barracks in Santiago de Cuba — the beginning of his long fight to overthrow Fulgenio Batista.

Today huge posters, some portraying Castro with a rifle slung over his shoulder, hang throughout Havana and slogans proclaim him the "commander in chief for whatever it be and whenever it be."

Diplomats and foreign observers agree that Castro enjoys great popularity with the Cuban people. That popularity does not extend to the same degree to the regime and the Communist system.

Some feel if Castro should ever, that might not be so in the future if the Communists finish building their political machinery.

Castro's personal popularity seems strongest among the peasants, some of whom fought against Batista. Since taking power, Castro has improved their lot, and has built roads, schools and hospitals.

The peasants remain highly suspicious of communism, however. Small farmers are allowed to keep their lands, even though total nationalization of private property has been accomplished in urban areas.

The strongest supporters of Castro in the cities are Negroes who make up about a third of Cuba's seven million population. The Negroes admire his efforts to end racial discrimination. At the bottom of the social scale under Batista, they consider they have gained from the revolution.

The government party—United Party of the Cuban Socialist Revolution — does not equally share Castro's popularity, partly because Castro overshadows everything else and partly because of a dislike of communism.

Once Around Roundtown

PICKAWAY Country Club's golf course yesterday evening was the scene of the most fantastic round of golf ever played there.

Rick Spires, a member and former PCC pro, toured the nine-hole, 3237 yard par 36 layout in an unbelievable 29 strokes.

Using a grand total of 10 putts, Spires birdied all but the first and sixth holes, which he parred. He capped his fabulous performance by sinking a 38-foot birdie putt on the ninth green.

Other members of the foursome playing with Spires were PCC Pro Tom Cassidy, Don Dawson and Bob Ransom.

The 29 strokes establishes a new course record, eclipsing the old one of 31 held jointly by Spires, Cassidy and Bruce Helwage.

Yesterday, Cassidy fired a 33 that could easily have been at least a 30 except for three short putts that failed to drop.

The foursome carded a total of 15 birdies in the match.

A CIRCLEVILLE Lutheran, asked to comment on his church's new air conditioning system (used for the first time yesterday), said: "I was so comfortable, I dozed off and never heard a word the pastor said."

Town Sports Trio Of Beauty Entries

CLOVIS, N.M. (AP) — This town has a Miss New Mexico for every 10,000 residents.

Judy Baldwin, 19, was Miss New Mexico in the Miss U.S.A. contest at Miami Beach, Fla., and as second runner-up served as a hostess in the Miss Universe pageant.

Ellen Growdon, 21, will be the Miss New Mexico in this year's Miss America pageant at Atlantic City, N.J.

Now Sandra Lee Van Houten, 18, who said she had anticipated a long boring summer and entered a beauty contest for a little excitement, is going to New York to compete in September for this nation's representative in the Miss World pageant.

Miss Universe's First Date Is with Marine

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Two thousand people crowded an oceanfront hotel to watch Thailand's Miss Universe celebrate the biggest party of her life: her coronation ball.

Hundreds waved, applauded and tooted horns as Apasra (Pook) Hongsakula walked through the hotel lobby on a red carpet to the ballroom Sunday night.

She smiled and waved back, saying, "Thank you, thank you."

In the ballroom, her escort, Marine 2nd Lt. Robert Wade of Charleston, S.C., had to battle autograph seekers to keep his date within arm's reach.

It was the 18-year-old dark-eyed Pook's first date. For first dates, it was a dinger.

Six hundred persons paid $50 each to eat a seven-course candle-light dinner and gaze at the Miss Universe lovelies. Seventy-two U.S. Marine officers in dress whites did the honors on the dance floor.

"I'm still dazed," said Pook, the nickname meaning "Fatty" by which everyone now calls her. Her name Apasra, or fairy, is too hard for most to pronounce. It's Ah-pas-lah.

A thousand persons milled in the hotel lobby and on the streets during the ball hopeful one beauty would slip out.

As the girls arrived and left, traffic came to a near halt within 10 blocks of the hotel. The same thing happened as they left.

"I love to dance, all kinds of dances," Pook said. "My favorite is the waltz."

"The waltz is impossible in her dress," said Lt. Wade. "We sort of did a two step two feet apart." Her gold gait gown, specially designed for this night, swept out in a wide hoop.

Pook, the crown on her raven hair, picked up the train of her dress and swept into the middle of the crowded floor to do a mild version of the frug.

"I could do better," she told admirers.

The petite dark-eyed queen was crowned Saturday night. With the title goes a year-long $10,000 appearance contract, $10,000 in cash and other gifts.

there were 14 serious offenses reported.

The crime rate has increased six times as fast as the U.S. population since 1958.

Thirty-seven per cent of the serious crimes solved by the police involved youths under 18 years old. This age group, comprising 15 per cent of the population, committed 43 per cent of property crimes.

These and other crime statistics were published by the FBI in its annual uniform crime reports.

Murder, rape, aggravated assault, robbery, burglary, larceny of $50 or more and auto theft are considered by the FBI as serious crimes for statistical purposes.

"The violent crimes of murder, forcible rape, aggravated assault and robbery recorded the sharpest increases in a number of years," the FBI said. But the sharpest individual increases occurred among the property crimes.

Here are some highlights of the FBI report:

—A total of 2,604,400 serious crimes were reported by police agencies throughout the year.

—The sharpest increase occurred in the suburbs, where the crime rate went up 17 per cent. Big city crime registered a 9 per cent increase, rural areas 8 per cent.

—The murder rate increased 7 per cent, forcible rape 20, robbery 10, aggravated assault 15, burglary 11, larceny 11, and auto theft 14.

Police solved 24 per cent of the serious crimes by arrest, a decline of 2 per cent from 1963.

—Arrests for all criminal acts, excluding traffic offenses, increased 5 per cent last year, resulting in 35 arrests for every 1,000 persons.

—Nationwide arrests of persons under 18 for all offenses except traffic violations were up 17 per cent, and 30 per cent of all suburban arrests involved young people.

—Geographically, the South led other regions with an 18 per cent crime increase, followed by the Northeast and Western states, up 14 and 13 per cent, and north central states, 12 per cent.

The library is another tool of learning the students brought with them — 1,000 books donated by UCLA students. When the summer project ends the books will remain in camp, to be used by the 70 families who winter here.

"Many families are so poor they encourage their children to drop out of school and go to work," said Miss Palmer. Now even the adults and older children, after returning from the fields, collar the student-teachers when they can, and some workers who never have spoken English before are learning to say, "Hello, my name is —"

The student-teachers will return to their homes at the end of this month and most of the migrant workers will head for Texas. They'll all take learning with them, but they'll leave behind the start of a project which Arvin High School and Bakersfield College students say they'll continue.

"I have an idea I'll be working on the legislative program, directing it and so forth," the young Brooklyn native said today in an interview. "And the President also told me I'd help on some legal problems."

"But, actually, I haven't been over to the White House yet," he added, "so I don't know."

Califano — pronounce it "Calif-fono" — has been special assistant to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and served as chief troubleshooter in matters involving Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and the Selma, Ala., racial crisis.

The President first contacted him after Bill D. Moyers was named press secretary to replace George Reddy.

"Actually I'm Bill's replacement," Califano said. "And I hope to be able to do as good a job as Bill has done in the legislative area. He's been just fantastic."

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Two thousand people crowded an oceanfront hotel to watch Thailand's Miss Universe celebrate the biggest party of her life: her coronation ball.

Hundreds waved, applauded and tooted horns as Apasra (Pook) Hongsakula walked through the hotel lobby on a red carpet to the ballroom Sunday night.

She smiled and waved back, saying, "Thank you, thank you."

In the ballroom, her escort, Marine 2nd Lt. Robert Wade of Charleston, S.C., had to battle autograph seekers to keep his date within arm's reach.

It was the 18-year-old dark-eyed Pook's first date. For first tion of Henry Cabot Lodge to be ambassador to South Viet Nam is expected to come before the Senate sometime this week.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen girded to resume his fight for legislation proposing a constitutional amendment to permit reapportionment of one branch of state legislatures on a basis other than population. The proposal is aimed at bypassing the Supreme Court's one man-one vote decision.

The apportionment row could throw a roadblock in the way of efforts to adjourn Congress by Labor Day.

Senate - House conferees planned to resume Tuesday their efforts to work out a compromise version of the administration's bill to protect the voting rights of Negroes and other minorities.

Some feel if Castro should ever, that might not be so in the future if the Communists finish building their political machinery.

Castro's personal popularity seems strongest among the peasants, some of whom fought against Batista. Since taking power, Castro has improved their lot, and has built roads, schools and hospitals.

The peasants remain highly suspicious of communism, however. Small farmers are allowed to keep their lands, even though total nationalization of private property has been accomplished in urban areas.

The strongest supporters of Castro in the cities are Negroes who make up about a third of Cuba's seven million population. The Negroes admire his efforts to end racial discrimination. At the bottom of the social scale under Batista, they consider they have gained from the revolution.

The government party—United Party of the Cuban Socialist Revolution — does not equally share Castro's popularity, partly because Castro overshadows everything else and partly because of a dislike of communism.

CLOVIS, N.M. (AP) — This town has a Miss New Mexico for every 10,000 residents.

Judy Baldwin, 19, was Miss New Mexico in the Miss U.S.A. contest at Miami Beach, Fla., and as second runner-up served as a hostess in the Miss Universe pageant.

Ellen Gronow, 21, will be the Miss New Mexico in this year's Miss America pageant at Atlantic City, N.J.

Now Sandra Lee Van Houten, 18, who said she had anticipated a long boring summer and entered a beauty contest for a little excitement, is going to New York to compete in September for this nation's representative in the Miss World pageant.

U.S. Strategy ...

made by Tuesday night. Newsweek magazine, in an exclusive interview, today quoted the President as saying the Communists "think we've lost." "They think they can run us out. I've tried 13 peace offensives to get them to talk, but no. We've either got to hold out or get out. "We're going to do what's necessary. We cannot just get out."

Newsweek said the President also described his policy as one "to minimize our losses and exercise maximum restraint, . . .

show our strength without being reckless."

The President added in the interview: "They're pouring in power. They're pouring in troops every week, and we have to put troops in to oppose them."

In Honolulu, Hawaii, Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp Jr., the U.S. Pacific military commander, said in an interview that the Viet Cong forces are stronger now than they were six months ago. He declined to comment on the downing of the U.S. plane Sunday.

Word of the possible missile use came from a U.S. spokesman in Saigon, capital of South Vietnam.

He said: "Initial indications are that the plane (an F4C Phantom jet) was downed by what might have been a surface-to-air missile."

The development brought no public comment from either President Johnson or Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who conferred with the President at Camp David.

The United States previously had disclosed the existence of five surface-to-air (SAM) sites about 15 miles from Hanoi, capital of Communist North Vietnam. Officials estimate the missiles have a slant range of 35 miles and an effective altitude of 80,000 feet.

But Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense, said Sunday that "we have never credited" the sites with being ready for combat.

Nonetheless, Sylvester added: "It has always been recognized that they could be made operational in a relatively short time."

Earlier, McNamara said the United States was planning for such an eventuality.

New Viet Nam strategy talks have been under way in Washington since Wednesday when McNamara returned from a five-day visit to the Southeast Asian nation.

Reds Step Up Harassment

Guerrillas Move Closer to Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Viet Cong guerrillas are stepping up harassment activities closer to Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

The Communists initiated six actions within 25 miles of the capital during the weekend, the spokesman said. Three of the actions were reported south of Saigon in neighboring Long An Province.

The actions included a mortar barrage against an outpost and infiltration into a hamlet.

Only scattered and relatively light ground action was reported today as the United States continued its air strikes in both North and South Viet Nam.

Two Viet Cong were reported killed, another wounded and six captured by U.S. Marines who suffered no casualties, the spokesman said. He said guerrillas attempted to ambush a Marine patrol in the Da Nang area.

The spokesman said 26 Viet Cong were reported killed during a government search and destroy operation with close air support in Quang Tin Province, 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew more than 200 sorties against suspected Communist installations in the south in a 24-hour period ending this morning, the spokesman said.

A forward artillery observer estimated 35 Viet Cong were killed 7 miles east of Bien Hoa air base, the spokesman said, but there was no ground confirmation. Another 15 guerrillas were reported killed in a raid against a Viet Cong encampment 25 miles southeast of Can Tho, in the Mekong River delta, but again the casualties were not confirmed by body count.

Flash Floods Kill 8 in Tennessee

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Hundreds of mountain residents in flood-stricken east Tennessee and southeast Kentucky headed home today, some to clear mud from their houses, others to build new ones.

They also faced the problem of snakes and the threat of typhoid.

Flash floods raced through the valleys early Saturday leaving eight persons known dead. Five of the victims were from one family.

Rep. John Duncan, R-Tenn., said he would ask the Office of Emergency Planning today for disaster relief funds for victims.

Clinchmore, 40 miles north of Knoxville, was hardest hit. Water rose in houses before some sleeping residents could escape. Coal mining equipment and steel railroad cars were flattened as if by a bulldozer. Roads turned to riverbeds. Houses, cars and huge trees were swept away.

"Now, besides typhoid, one of the worst things we have to look out for is snakes," said a state trooper. "I understand five copperheads have been killed by search parties."

Ohio Weekend Traffic Kills Only 13 Persons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 13 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents around the Buckeye State over the weekend. It was the first time in four weekends that the traffic toll was under 20.

The sweltering weather brought out exceptionally large numbers of swimmers, however, and seven persons drowned.

Death of Dayton Woman Is Probed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — An autopsy was planned to determine the cause of death of a 54-year-old Dayton area woman whose body was found in her hotel room Sunday.

Police said Mrs. Mary Werner, a widow and a former mental patient, apparently had taken her own life. But the Montgomery County coroner declined to issue any statement until completion of the autopsy.

A small bottle of brown liquid was found next to the body by the manager of the Antler Hotel, and a plastic dry cleaning bag was found around her arm. Police said she had suffocated.

Viet Nam Trial Faces American

Aid Official Held For Slaying Pair

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Robert Kimball, an American aid official, is expected to be tried in a Vietnamese court on charges of murdering a senior U.S. police adviser and a Vietnamese woman.

Le Tu Truc, chief of police of Saigon's 3rd Precinct, said that Kimball, 36, had confessed killing Jack E. Ryan, 44, chief of the U.S. Aid Mission's public safety division, and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Hai, 26, outside Ryan's house Friday night.

A reliable police source said a statement from Kimball has been turned over to a Vietnamese court. This source said the prisoner related this story to police:

Kimball and Mrs. Hai had an argument in a restaurant Friday evening. He took her home at her request, but watched suspiciously from a nearby bar until she turned out the lights.

On his way home by motorcycle, he saw Ryan's car heading toward the Hai residence. He followed the car. He saw Mrs. Hai enter the car and the couple drive toward Ryan's home.

Kimball encountered the couple in Ryan's driveway. Ryan suggested they discuss their differences at another time. Kimball pulled Mrs. Hai out of the car and slapped her. Then Ryan punched him and he fell backward. Kimball pulled out his revolver and fired at Ryan when he saw Ryan reaching for a pocket where he normally carried a pistol.

He kept firing when Mrs. Hai ran toward him screaming.

3 Nominated To Be Leader Of Tories

LONDON (AP) — Three contenders were nominated today in the race for leader of Britain's Conservative party and potential prime minister. Nomination of the third man made a decision on the first ballot Tuesday unlikely.

The three put forward by Tory members of Parliament were:

Edward Heath, 49, a bachelor who tried to negotiate Britain's entry into the Common Market until he ran up against President Charles de Gaulle's veto.

Reginald Maudling 48, chancellor of the exchequer in the last Conservative government. Regarded as an able and affable administrator, he was the favorite.

Enoch Powell, 53, former health minister who believes in modern methods, unbridled free enterprise and has the backing of some younger members of his party.

If Heath and Maudling had stood alone, it might have been a quick contest ending Tuesday. The entry of Powell into the ring make a second ballot likely.

A fourth possible candidate, Peter Thorneycroft, 55, announced he would not stand for election. But he added that if the vote was deadlocked, he reserved his position.

Goldberg Pledges; Help Keep Peace Candle Burning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur J. Goldberg was sworn in today as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and promised to strive "in my own way to help keep the candle of peace burning."

Shifting from the Supreme Court to take the diplomatic post, Goldberg said the quest for peace will be the true memorial to the late Adlai E. Stevenson, the man he succeeds.

"I have no illusions that peace can be achieved rapidly," Goldberg told President Johnson and an audience of Cabinet members, congressmen and other officials in the White House rose garden.

Guerrillas Move Closer to Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Viet Cong guerrillas are stepping up harassment activities closer to Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

The Communists initiated six actions within 25 miles of the capital during the weekend, the spokesman said. Three of the actions were reported south of Saigon in neighboring Long An Province.

The actions included a mortar barrage against an outpost and infiltration into a hamlet.

Only scattered and relatively light ground action was reported today as the United States continued its air strikes in both North and South Viet Nam.

Two Viet Cong were reported killed, another wounded and six captured by U.S. Marines who suffered no casualties, the spokesman said. He said guerrillas attempted to ambush a Marine patrol in the Da Nang area.

The spokesman said 26 Viet Cong were reported killed during a government search and destroy operation with close air support in Quang Tin Province, 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew more than 200 sorties against suspected Communist installations in the south in a 24-hour period ending this morning, the spokesman said.

A forward artillery observer estimated 35 Viet Cong were killed 7 miles east of Bien Hoa air base, the spokesman said, but there was no ground confirmation. Another 15 guerrillas were reported killed in a raid against a Viet Cong encampment 25 miles southeast of Can Tho, in the Mekong River delta, but again the casualties were not confirmed by body count.

Flash Floods Kill 8 in Tennessee

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Hundreds of mountain residents in flood-stricken east Tennessee and southeast Kentucky headed home today, some to clear mud from their houses, others to build new ones.

They also faced the problem of snakes and the threat of typhoid.

Flash floods raced through the valleys early Saturday leaving eight persons known dead. Five of the victims were from one family.

Rep. John Duncan, R-Tenn., said he would ask the Office of Emergency Planning today for disaster relief funds for victims.

Clinchmore, 40 miles north of Knoxville, was hardest hit. Water rose in houses before some sleeping residents could escape. Coal mining equipment and steel railroad cars were flattened as if by a bulldozer. Roads turned to riverbeds. Houses, cars and huge trees were swept away.

"Now, besides typhoid, one of the worst things we have to look out for is snakes," said a state trooper. "I understand five copperheads have been killed by search parties."

Ohio Weekend Traffic Kills Only 13 Persons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 13 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents around the Buckeye State over the weekend. It was the first time in four weekends that the traffic toll was under 20.

The sweltering weather brought out exceptionally large numbers of swimmers, however, and seven persons drowned.

Death of Dayton Woman Is Probed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An autopsy was planned to determine the cause of death of a 54-year-old Dayton area woman whose body was found in her hotel room Sunday.

Police said Mrs. Mary Werner, a widow and a former mental patient, apparently had taken her own life. But the Montgomery County coroner declined to issue any statement until completion of the autopsy.

A small bottle of brown liquid was found next to the body by the manager of the Antler Hotel, and a plastic dry cleaning bag was wound around her arm. Police said she had suffocated.

Viet Nam Trial Faces American

Aid Official Held For Slaying Pair

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Robert Kimball, an American aid official, is expected to be tried in a Vietnamese court on charges of murdering a senior U.S. police adviser and a Vietnamese woman.

Le Tu Truc, chief of police of Saigon's 3rd Precinct, said that Kimball, 36, had confessed killing Jack E. Ryan, 44, chief of the U.S. Aid Mission's public safety division, and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Hai, 26, outside Ryan's house Friday night.

A reliable police source said a statement from Kimball has been turned over to a Vietnamese court. This source said the prisoner related this story to police:

Kimball had been seeing Mrs. Hai for two years and believed she was in love with him. But he said he noticed a change in her when Ryan returned to Saigon after a visit to the United States.

Kimball and Mrs. Hai had an argument in a restaurant Friday evening. He took her home at her request, but watched suspiciously from a nearby bar until she turned out the lights.

On his way home by motorcycle, he saw Ryan's car heading toward the Hai residence. He followed the car. He saw Mrs. Hai enter the car and the couple drive toward Ryan's home.

Kimball encountered the couple in Ryan's driveway. Ryan suggested they discuss their differences at another time. Kimball pulled Mrs. Hai out of the car and slapped her. Then Ryan punched him and he fell backward. Kimball pulled out his revolver and fired at Ryan when he saw Ryan reaching for a pocket where he normally carried a pistol.

He kept firing when Mrs. Hai ran toward him screaming.

"IN HARM'S WAY"

CRICKET GOES HOME—Her real name is Stephanie Joanne, but nurses at Berger Hospital might disagree. "Cricket," as she has been christened by nurses, is the 2-pound 1-ounce daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sills, 507 Plaza Drive, on May 4. For the past three months, she has been that "other" baby that new parents view in the nursery after seeing their own. Her lowest weight was 1-pound 8-ounces and she is the smallest baby born at Berger Hospital (and the smallest delivered by Dr. Ray Carroll) to live after birth. On Saturday, the entire obstetrics nursing staff was on hand when Mrs. Betty Hartmann (right) turned "Cricket" over to her mother after 81 days in the hospital.

3 Nominated To Be Leader Of Tories

LONDON (AP)—Three contenders were nominated today in the race for leader of Britain's Conservative party and potential prime minister. Nomination of the third man made a decision on the first ballot Tuesday unlikely.

The three put forward by Tory members of Parliament were:

Edward Heath, 49, a bachelor who tried to negotiate Britain's entry into the Common Market until he ran up against President Charles de Gaulle's veto.

Reginald Maudling 48, chancellor of the exchequer in the last Conservative government. Regarded as an able and affable administrator, he was the favorite.

Enoch Powell, 53, former health minister who believes in modern methods, unbridled free enterprise and has the backing of some younger members of his party.

If Heath and Maudling had stood alone, it might have been a quick contest ending Tuesday. The entry of Powell into the ring make a second ballot likely.

A fourth possible candidate, Peter Thorneycroft, 55, announced he would not stand for election. But he added that if the vote was deadlocked, he reserved his position.

Goldberg Pledges; Help Keep Peace Candle Burning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur J. Goldberg was sworn in today as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and promised to strive "in my own way to help keep the candle of peace burning."

Shifting from the Supreme Court to take the diplomatic post, Goldberg said the quest for peace will be the true memorial to the late Adlai E. Stevenson, the man he succeeds.

"I have no illusions that peace can be achieved rapidly," Goldberg told President Johnson and an audience of Cabinet members, congressmen and other officials in the White House rose garden.

"But I have every confidence that it is going to be possible to inch forward to it, inch by agonizing inch," Goldberg said. He said there is no alternative in a nuclear age.

Gaining on Criminals

One of the essentials of a free existence is the right of a speedy adjudication of criminal charges. Court backlogs and delays in administering justice work against a lawful society in a number of ways.

A suspect who has to wait months for trial and then is found not guilty has undergone undeserved punishment from which he may never fully recover, not to mention the financial losses he may have suffered.

But a guilty person frequently benefits by delays between arraignment and trial. Witnesses may disappear or become uncertain in their recollection of what occurred. Law enforcement officials may lose some of their zest for conviction as time passes.

All of these conditions are prevalent in the United States today, as court dockets continue to build up record backlogs. Justice is not being served in many of the larger cities, and some not so large, by the delays and courtroom jams caused by a rising crime wave.

What is the solution? More courtrooms and more judges seems the obvious one. But is an expensive expansion of the judiciary system really necessary? A Philadelphia jurist has proved it is not.

Judge Vincent A. Carroll is the man largely responsible for reducing the backlog of major criminal cases in that city by two-thirds. And it was done in five months. What's more, trials are now running ahead of new cases — a rare event in recent years.

Judge Carroll has no magic formula. Just an intensive drive, which gained the cooperation of other members of the bench, to use courtroom facilities to the fullest advantage and eliminate unnecessary delays. Continuances are granted sparingly, and always with the approval of the administrative judge, which is what Judge Carroll is.

This is the way one city tackled court congestion. It is a painless way, for all except the guilty. And it is effective both in reducing the backlog and in saving the taxpayers unnecessary expenditures. A more laudable combination of results it would be hard to find.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Uncle Sam has cleared the way to keep up with the big jump in the demand for coins and currency in the United States.

His plan, in a sense, is less silver and more gold.

The abnormal increase in the last two years in the volume of coins and paper money in circulation caught the United States by surprise. Apparently it wasn't duplicated in other lands.

To free its mints to meet the coin shortage, past and potential, the United States is changing the metal content of coins. Silver, in greater demand both for coins and industrial use, is being dropped from dimes and quarters and cut to 40 per cent in half dollars. With copper and nickel Uncle Sam can make more and cheaper coins — and avoid running out of silver.

The growing economy calls for more money and credit. But in the last two years the demand has grown much faster than the economy.

Vending machines and turnstiles have multiplied. The coin demand has spurred even more.

Here is how the U.S. Treasury reports the rising demand for coins:

The average annual increase between 1954 and 1961 was $95 million. In 1962 this jumped to $190 million; in 1963 to $226 million; and in 1964 to $327 million.

Federal Reserve figures show the annual increase in paper money in circulation in 1954-1961 was $259 million. This jumped to $1.17 billion in 1962, $1.47 billion in 1963 and $1.94 billion in 1964.

The increase in coinage demand this year is estimated at $495 million and in currency at $1.97 billion.

The totals are sizable. In June 1965 paper money in circulation plus demand deposits for which currency can be obtained reached $35 billion. The Treasury reports 12 billion silver dimes, quarters and half dollars are now outstanding. And 3.5 million of the new coins will be minted in the next year.

While the value of the outstanding coins is much less than that of the paper money the rate of increase in demand for coins has been much faster. This year coin demand is 15.4 per cent higher than last, while currency growth is up 5.7 per cent.

One reason given is the advent of the vending machine age. Another is the growth of the economy. A third is the increase in the number of coin collectors and in the size of the collections in an affluent society. A fourth is possible hoarding in expectation of a shortage increasing either the value of collector's items or of the metal content of the coins.

Still another might be that in the months of increasing prosperity, money of all sorts burns holes faster in people's pockets.

up against. But I had to spend nearly three months in the war zone to get up enough courage to face the trip back.

The air line fellows who make the seating assignments must be either sadists or former sardine canners. Their goal seems always to wedge a fat man in the middle of the three cramped seats.

Then the fun begins. A typical row is as follows: On the outside seat is a tall man with legs so long he trips up hostesses several times before one finally tells him he can't leave them in the aisle. So he puts one foot under the seat ahead of him and one under the seat in front of the fatman next to him.

And the passenger by the window, on the other side of the fat man, usually is a talkative middle-aged lady who suffers from claustrophobia and is making her first flight.

She can't stand being crowded and becomes nervous. Every 15 minutes she has to clamber over the fat man to go to the comfort room. After 1,000 miles her spiked heels have scraped both his shins raw.

About then food is served. The hostesses fly back and forth with trays like burdened birds. The theory is that if enough food is stuffed into the passengers they will go into a coma and quit trying to move around.

By the time his circulation returns in his arms, the fat man's companions have finished their meal. He weakly tries to cut his steak and winds up with his elbows in the neighboring plates. He is too tired to struggle. He just leaves them there, soaking up gravy, until the hostesses come to his rescue and take away the trays.

But if tourist flights are tough on the paying guests, they are equally hard on the heroic, hard-working hostesses. At the end of one stage of my journey, I told one hostess who was leaving, "I guess you girls really feel like a rest."

"Oh, our work isn't quite through yet, sir," she said brightly, "we still have to take off our shoes and press the grapes to make the champagne for the return."

At least 20 flying saucers have been reported seen in various parts of the world within the last two weeks, the National Investigating Committee on Aerial Phenomena in Washington announces. Maybe Martians, too, take vacations and are just looking for likely spots.

What adds credence to the vacation idea is that some of the saucers were reported seen over Antarctica — where it's nice and cool these summer days.

Week of Decision

By John Chamberlain

This is the week in which Lyndon Johnson, the "consensus" President, must come to terms with the "other" Lyndon Johnson who has asked Congress to repeal that controversial section 14(B) of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits states to ban the union shop. Harlem's Adam Clayton Powell, invoking the new "twenty-one day" rule, has asked for a House of Representatives vote on whether the bill calling for repeal shall be brought out of the Rules Committee to the Floor. If the House approves of taking the bill out of the Rules Committee jurisdiction, the fate of 14(B) will be settled within a very few days, and it will be settled precisely as Adam Clayton Powell dictates.

The fight over 14(B) has been the closest fight yet in this "Lyndon Johnson Congress," and both sides are claiming victory. Yet the consensus of the country to which Johnson normally pays the utmost deference, is definitely against repeal. COPE, the AFL-CIO Organization for Political Education has tried to drum up national sentiment for killing state bans of compulsory unionism, but the heavy preponderance of mail in favor of retaining 14(B) has dismayed the labor leaders. Up to the week-end when this column is being written, the only real effort on the part of the White House to forget the nation's "consensus" and to help along a 14(B) repeal has been to send Vice President Hubert Humphrey to Capitol Hill to talk to some farm congressmen, hoping, no doubt, to wheedle some rural votes for repeal in exchange for city votes for farm legislation.

This has been the oddest Congressional battle in years, for few people really care much about 14(B) in itself. The presence of right-to-work laws in 19 states hasn't demonstrably hurt the unions. On the other hand, nobody can impose compulsory unionization in non-right-to-work states where the constitution has become a fighting one for purely symbolic reasons. Labor regards it as a test of its national political power. The other side feels that if labor can win in Congress against the consensus of the country as a whole, there will be no stopping the union leaders.

The sad thing about it is that the rank and file of labor will lose its hold on its own leaders if they ever achieve total compulsory unionism. In states where the union shop is legal, labor leaders have offered to accept less in both wage rates and fringe benefits in exchange for a union shop provision.

Labor leaders have promised to go easy on taking cases to arbitration or to present fewer grievances if only management will come through with union shop recognition. Union shop arrangements encourage so-called sweetheart agreements, with management and union bosses sharing power between them at the expense of what Thorstein Veblen, the sardonic social theorist of a bygone generation used to call "the underlying population."

As of the moment of writing, 20 out of 23 Texas Congressmen are still in accord with Texas's Governor Connally in upholding right-to-work. And, since a House Floor vote to return the question of 14(B) to committee would not entail expressing an opinion on the law itself, some timorous Northern Republicans who fear the power of the labor leaders may be encouraged to go along with Southern Democrats and with their own House leadership in preventing a vote on right-to-work repeal.

The right-to-work forces have a bare chance of winning in there, they can still win in the Senate, where they have considerably more than enough votes to stave off cloture if tactics call for a filibuster. If Lyndon Johnson chooses to desert the nation's consensus on 14(B), the issue could become for his Administration what the court-packing issue was for Franklin D. Roosevelt — the first draining defeat.

Gaining on Criminals

One of the essentials of a free existence is the right of a speedy adjudication of criminal charges. Court backlogs and delays in administering justice work against a lawful society in a number of ways.

A suspect who has to wait months for trial and then is found not guilty has undergone undeserved punishment from which he may never fully recover, not to mention the financial losses he may have suffered.

But a guilty person frequently benefits by delays between arraignment and trial. Witnesses may disappear or become uncertain in their recollection of what occurred. Law enforcement officials may lose some of their zest for conviction as time passes.

All of these conditions are prevalent in the United States today, as court dockets continue to build up record backlogs. Justice is not being served in many of the larger cities, and some not so large, by the delays and courtroom jams caused by a rising crime wave.

What is the solution? More courtrooms and more judges seems the obvious one. But is an expensive expansion of the judiciary system really necessary? A Philadelphia jurist has proved it is not.

Judge Vincent A. Carroll is the man largely responsible for reducing the backlog of major criminal cases in that city by two-thirds. And it was done in five months. What's more, trials are now running ahead of new cases — a rare event in recent years.

Judge Carroll has no magic formula. Just an intensive drive, which gained the cooperation of other members of the bench, to use courtroom facilities to the fullest advantage and eliminate unnecessary delays. Continuances are granted sparingly, and always with the approval of the administrative judge, which is what Judge Carroll is.

This is the way one city tackled court congestion. It is a painless way, for all except the guilty. And it is effective both in reducing the backlog and in saving the taxpayers unnecessary expenditures. A more laudable combination of results it would be hard to find.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Uncle Sam has cleared the way to keep up with the big jump in the demand for coins and currency in the United States.

His plan, in a sense, is less silver and more gold.

The abnormal increase in the last two years in the volume of coins and paper money in circulation caught the United States by surprise. Apparently it wasn't duplicated in other lands.

To free its mints to meet the coin shortage, past and potential, the United States is changing the metal content of coins. Silver, in greater demand both for coins and industrial use, is being dropped from dimes and quarters and cut to 40 per cent in half dollars. With copper and nickel Uncle Sam can make more and cheaper coins — and avoid running out of silver.

The growing economy calls for more money and credit. But in the last two years the demand has grown much faster than the economy.

Vending machines and turnstiles have multiplied. The coin demand has spurred even more.

Here is how the U.S. Treasury reports the rising demand for coins:

The average annual increase between 1954 and 1961 was $95 million. In 1962 this jumped to $190 million; in 1963 to $226 million; and in 1964 to $327 million.

Federal Reserve figures show the annual increase in paper money in circulation in 1954-1961 was $259 million. This jumped to $1.17 billion in 1962, $1.47 billion in 1963 and $1.94 billion in 1964.

The increase in coinage demand this year is estimated at $495 million and in currency at $1.97 billion.

The totals are sizable. In June 1965 paper money in circulation plus demand deposits for which currency can be obtained reached $35 billion. The Treasury reports 12 billion silver dimes, quarters and half dollars are now outstanding. And 3.5 million of the new coins will be minted in the next year.

While the value of the outstanding coins is much less than that of the paper money, the rate of increase in demand for coins has been much faster. This year coin demand is 15.4 per cent higher than last, while currency growth is up 5.7 per cent.

One reason given is the advent of the vending machine age. Another is the growth of the economy. A third is the increase in the number of coin collectors and in the size of the collections in an affluent society. A fourth is possible hoarding in expectation of a shortage increasing either the value of collector's items or of the metal content of the coins.

Still another might be that in the months of increasing prosperity, money of all sorts burns holes faster in people's pockets.

Tourist Class Travel Is Ordeal

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals today is taking a long international air journey in tourist or economy class.

The money you save barely covers the cost of having your friendly neighborhood osteopath straighten the kinds out of your backbone.

As a matter of fact, after making a round-trip economy flight of some 20,000 miles to and from Viet Nam, I have only one suggestion to the air lines: replace any member of the crew, except possibly the pilot, with a staff orthopedist or a chiropractor.

Going over wasn't so bad because I didn't know what I was up against. But I had to spend nearly three months in the war zone to get up enough courage to face the trip back.

The air line fellows who make the seating assignments must be either sadists or former sardine canners. Their goal seems always to wedge a fat man in the middle of the three cramped seats.

Then the fun begins.

A typical row is as follows: On the outside seat is a tall man with legs so long he trips up hostesses several times before one finally tells him he can't leave them in the aisle. So he puts one foot under the seat ahead of him and one under the seat in front of the fatman next to him.

And the passenger by the window, on the other side of the fat man, usually is a talkative middle-aged lady who suffers from claustrophobia and is making her first flight.

She can't stand being crowded and becomes nervous. Every 15 minutes she has to clamber over the fat man to go to the comfort room. After 1,000 miles her spiked heels have scraped both his shins raw.

About then food is served. The hostesses fly back and forth with trays like burdened birds. The theory is that if enough food is stuffed into the passengers they will go into a coma and quit trying to move around.

By the time his circulation returns in his arms, the fat man's companions have finished their meal. He weakly tries to cut his steak and winds up with his elbows in the neighboring plates. He is too tired to struggle. He just leaves them there, soaking up gravy, until the hostesses come to his rescue and take away the trays.

But if tourist flights are tough on the paying guests, they are equally hard on the heroic, hard-working hostesses. At the end of one stage of my journey, I told one hostess who was leaving, "I guess you girls really feel like a rest."

"Oh, our work isn't quite through yet, sir," she said brightly, "we still have to take off our shoes and press the grapes to make the champagne for the return."

This is the week in which Lyndon Johnson, the "consensus"

with the "other" Lyndon Johnson who has asked Congress to repeal that controversial section

14(B) of the Taft-Hartley

Act which permits states to ban

Fat Earnings Reports Are Rolling In

NEW YORK (AP) — Fat earnings reports rolled in during the week, proving that business was excellent in the first half of this year.

Many companies reported record profits for the six months and most were near peak levels. Despite some apprehension of a slowdown, second-quarter earnings held up well in comparison with those of the first three months. In most cases they were far ahead of the 1964 second quarter.

Record first-half profits were reported by such firms as Parke, Davis & Co., General Telephone & Electronics Corp., Continental Can Co., Motorola, Inc., American Tobacco Co., Reynolds Metals Co., Weyerhaeuser Co. and Atlantic Refining Co.

The Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York had this to say about business' performance: "Midway through 1965 the economy is performing well, moving along the path remarkably close to the one traced by most forecasters last winter. The consensus then looked for gross national product—total of all goods and services—this year to reach $660 billion, the rise to be achieved by sharp gains in the very early months of the year and a somewhat slower pace of growth thereafter.

"The $660-billion estimate still looks good. In real terms it implies a healthy growth rate of close to 4 per cent—especially impressive coming in the fifth straight year of cyclical expansion."

The good earnings reports failed to stimulate the stock market. It apparently already had taken them into account.

The market on Tuesday suffered one of its worst losses of the year. Brokers blamed jitters over developments in the Viet Nam war.

Another factor, some brokers said, was a statement by Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, that President Johnson will be making recommendations next January to keep buying and business moving up. Apparently, some took this as an indication that the administration has some doubts about the strength of business next year.

The Commerce Department reported that personal income increased to a record rate again in June but the advance was slightly smaller than that in May. The total rose to an annual rate of $523.9 billion from $520 billion a month earlier.

Housing starts edged upward in June but were 6 per cent below the rate for June 1964. The number of houses put under construction during the month was at an annual rate of 1,531,000, compared with 1,516,000 in May and 1,621,000 a year earlier.

Orders received by factories for durable goods declined 2 per cent in June. New orders totaled $20.5 billion against $21 billion in May and $20 billion in June 1964. Shipments of durable goods rose from $20.6 billion in May to $20.7 billion in June.

With some plants being shut down for model changeover, automobile production during the week declined to an estimated 169,500 cars from 187,704 the previous week but still was far ahead of the 115,127 turned out a year ago.

Steel production increased during the week by 25,000 tons over the previous week to a total of 2.64 million tons. Production for the year to date totaled 76,876,000 tons against 66,676,000 in the like period of 1964.

Employment at Peak
PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Employment in Rhode Island reached in mid-June the highest level since the Korean build-up 13 years ago, with factory earnings at an all-time peak, the state Department of Labor reports.

Crime in Ohio Increases Whopping 12 Pct. in '64

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major crimes in Ohio increased a whopping 12 per cent last year compared with 1963, the FBI reported today.

In its Uniform Crime Reports, a national collection of police statistics, the FBI says there were 101,843 total Ohio offenses in 1964 compared with 89,960 the year before. Crimes included in the report are murder and non-negligent manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny $50 and over and auto theft.

The biggest jump was in aggravated assaults, which went from 3,836 to 5,583—up 32 per cent. Next largest increase was auto thefts, up 19 per cent, from 15,045 to 18,525.

Larceny incidents were up 15 per cent, from 22,113 to 24,901; rapes 14 per cent, from 1,034 to 1,358; murders and non-negligent manslaughters 12 per cent, from 306 to 350, and robbery 12 per cent, from 4,145 to 4,663.

The smallest increase was in the largest category, burglary, which jumped 7 per cent, from 43,898 to 47,100.

Figuring the number of crimes per 100,000 population, Ohio had 1,008.3 crimes in 1964 for every 100,000 residents. Its neighbors' rates: Michigan 1,531.6 per 100,000; Indiana 1,617; Kentucky 1,034.7; Pennsylvania 853.6 and West Virginia 538.2.

Although the Ohio crime rate increased by 12 per cent last year, the increase was less than the national hike of 13.1 per cent.

The Columbus metropolitan area had the highest crime rate.

Fat Earnings Reports Are Rolling In

NEW YORK (AP) — Fat earnings reports rolled in during the week, proving that business was excellent in the first half of this year.

Many companies reported record profits for the six months and most were near peak levels.

Despite some apprehension of a slowdown, second-quarter earnings held up well in comparison with those of the first three months. In most cases they were far ahead of the 1964 second quarter.

Record first-half profits were reported by such firms as Parke, Davis & Co., General Telephone & Electronics Corp., Continental Can Co., Motorola Inc., American Tobacco Co., Reynolds Metals Co., Weyerhaeuser Co. and Atlantic Refining Co.

The Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York had this to say about business' performance: "Midway through 1965 the economy is performing well, moving along the path remarkably close to the one traced by most forecasters last winter. The consensus then looked for gross national product—total of all goods and services—this year to reach $660 billion, the rise to be achieved by sharp gains in the very early months of the year and a somewhat slower pace of growth thereafter.

"The $660-billion estimate still looks good. In real terms it implies a healthy growth rate of close to 4 per cent—especially impressive coming in the fifth straight year of cyclical expansion."

The good earnings reports failed to stimulate the stock market. It apparently already had taken them into account.

The market on Tuesday suffered one of its worst losses of the year. Brokers blamed jitters over developments in the Viet Nam war.

Another factor, some brokers said, was a statement by Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, that President Johnson will be making recommendations next January to keep buying and business moving up. Apparently, some took this as an indication that the administration has some doubts about the strength of business next year.

The Commerce Department reported that personal income increased to a record rate again in June but the advance was slightly smaller than that in May. The total rose to an annual rate of $523.9 billion from $520 billion a month earlier.

Housing started edged upward in June but were 6 per cent below the rate for June 1964. The number of houses put under construction during the month was at an annual rate of 1,531,000, compared with 1,516,000 in May and 1,621,000 a year earlier.

Orders received by factories for durable goods declined 2 per cent in June. New orders totaled $20.5 billion against $21 billion in May and $20 billion in June 1964. Shipments of durable goods rose from $20.6 billion in May to $20.7 billion in June.

With some plants being shut down for model changeover, automobile production during the week declined to an estimated 169,500 cars from 187,704 the previous week but still was far ahead of the 115,127 turned out a year ago.

Steel production increased during the week by 25,000 tons over the previous week to a total of 2.64 million tons. Production for the year to date totaled 76,876,000 tons against 66,676,000 in the like period of 1964.

Employment at Peak

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Employment in Rhode Island reached in mid-June the highest level since the Korean build-up 13 years ago, with factory earnings at an all-time peak, the state Department of Labor reports.

Crime in Ohio Increases Whopping 12 Pct. in '64

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major crimes in Ohio increased a whopping 12 per cent last year compared with 1963, the FBI reported today.

In its Uniform Crime Reports, a national collection of police statistics, the FBI says there were 101,843 total Ohio offenses in 1964 compared with 89,960 the year before. Crimes included in the report are murder and non-negligent manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny $50 and over and auto theft.

The biggest jump was in aggravated assaults, which went from 3,836 to 5,583—up 32 per cent. Next largest increase was auto thefts, up 19 per cent, from 15,045 to 18,525.

Larceny incidents were up 15 per cent, from 22,113 to 24,901; rapes 14 per cent, from 1,034 to 1,358; murders and non-negligent manslaughters 12 per cent, from 306 to 350, and robbery 12 per cent, from 4,145 to 4,663.

The smallest increase was in the largest category, burglary, which jumped 7 per cent, from 43,898 to 47,100.

Figuring the number of crimes per 100,000 population, Ohio had 1,008.3 crimes in 1964 for every 100,000 residents. Its neighbors' rates: Michigan 1,531.6 per 100,000; Indiana 1,617; Kentucky 1,034.7; Pennsylvania 853.6 and West Virginia 538.2.

Although the Ohio crime rate increased by 12 per cent last year, the increase was less than the national hike of 13.1 per cent.

The Columbus metropolitan area had the highest crime rate.

OU Branch Sets Counsel Dates

Counseling sessions have been scheduled at the Lancaster Branch of Ohio University for teachers holding provisional elementary certificates.

In 1941, the Department of Education created the provisional elementary certificate known as the Cadet Certificate. This program provided for the certification of students who completed 62 hours of prescribed courses at recognized state colleges to teach in elementary schools. The certificate is renewable after four years upon completion of 24 additional hours of credit directed toward a college degree.

After September, 1966, the cadet program will be discontinued at Ohio University. This means that no more students will be accepted into the cadet teaching program. Those teachers presently holding cadet certificates are urged to complete the requirements for the degree as soon as possible.

There will be a counselor from the campus available at the Branch during the hours of 6-8 p.m. on July 28, Aug. 4, and Aug. 11 to counsel those students enrolled in the cadet program. All cadets desiring counseling should come to the Branch during this time.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Have a 'Coffee Klatch'

DEAR ABBY: I've been married six years to a wonderful guy, until he gets to the table I can spend a whole day preparing a delicious meal and he looks at it like it's yesterday's left overs. He examines everything I put in front of him like it has poison in it. He never tells me what he likes, but nine out of ten things I prepare he does not like. He thinks meat should come without fat, and I feel guilty when he carves every little bite down to practically nothing. You can imagine the strain it puts on me at meal time I haven't enjoyed a meal for months.

It's not that I can't cook. I can. His mother is a terrible cook, and he's been in the service, so I don't understand where he picked up these fussy eating habits. I honestly don't know what to do.

STUMPED: Have a little chat with hubby when you are both relaxed and away from the table. Tell him how hard you try to please him, and ask for his cooperation in planning the meals. If he makes no effort to help you, you'll know that his problem is not what HE'S eating — but what's eating HIM.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and am going with a wonderful boy who is 25. I told my parents he is only 19. I hate to lie, but in this case I had to because if they knew how old he was they would never let me go out with him. We always have to sneak around and hope we don't see anybody we know. I am not ashamed of him, Abby, and there is nothing wrong with him but I just can't let my folks know the whole truth about him. I am getting fed up with having to sneak around like a couple of criminals. I think too much of him to break up with him. I just don't know what to do. Can you help me?

DARK EYES: There is something wrong with him. He is cooperating in the deception of your parents. Tell them how old he is. If they object, accept it with grace and they might surprise you and allow you to date him.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is 47 and has been divorced 14 years. She's lived alone in her own home all those years. She has supported herself and has always been a wonderful, uncomplaining woman. She's often "kidded" about finding a boy friend. Now it seems she's found one. Pete (not his real name) has been divorced twice. He drinks more than he should and he also gambles. (He can't afford it.) He seldom takes my mother-in-law anywhere, but has been making himself more and more at home at her place. He's stayed all night and this we strongly disapprove of. We know she's lonely, but how come he never needed a man for 14 years and now all of a sudden he needs one? She says she either intends to marry him or break off with him. All she wants is "companionship." Should we tell her that if she continues to see him we'll have nothing further to do with her?

DEAR VEXED: If you have let her know that you disapprove of her relationship with him, you've done all you can do. Do not punish her by "having nothing further to do with her," or Pete will become her whole life. Hope that she sees the light soon.

Firestone Union Shuns Tentative Agreement

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — The United Rubber Workers Union, Local 713, and Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. were trying to arrange new contract negotiations today following Sunday's rejection by the union of a tentative agreement.

The agreement covering only the Decatur plant of the kron, Ohio, company had been reached Friday. Some 550 workers went on strike June 27, but the issues have not been made public.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller must have thought a lot in nine days for within that time he decided to do what he had said would be meaningless to do.

He discussed the question of any 1968 presidential ambitions and closed the door on himself. But this wouldn't be the first time he did something like that and changed his mind.

What made it remarkable about taking himself out of the presidential race this early is that the Republican field is as wide open as at any time in history.

His party, still trying to pick itself up off the floor after its 1964 disaster, has been mute about practically everything, including the 1968 presidential race.

At this moment no one among the Republicans, including Rockefeller, looks like more than a mere possibility for the GOP nomination three years from now.

Rockefeller, twice elected New York's governor, told a news conference July 16 he would definitely seek a third term in 1968. Winning that, of course, would keep him in public life.

That, in turn, would give him a good foundation for seeking the presidential nomination. But would he try for the presidency three years from now? He avoided a direct answer to newsmen at the July 16 conference.

Instead, he said "We are so far away from 1968 it is meaningless" to discuss it. He added: "I am not giving it time or thought."

Then Sunday on the CBS program "Face the Nation," he said he would not be a GOP presidential candidate in 1968 or any other year. He ruled himself out forever. He said something like that once before.

On Dec. 26, 1959, he said he would not be a candidate in the 1960 race. He closed the door on himself that time after touring the country and finding Vice President Richard M. Nixon was away out in front.

He said then his "decision was definite and final."

As the 1960 nominating convention drew near he had second thoughts, although it is hard to see why since Nixon was still away out in front all by himself. Rockefeller announced he'd be willing to be drafted.

Nixon got the 1960 nomination and lost the election. In 1964, when the field was as wide open as now, Rockefeller fought and campaigned for the nomination and actually said he wanted it before anyone else spoke up. That time Sen. Barry Goldwater got the nomination and lost the election.

Now, with no would-be candidate ahead of any other would-be candidate, it would seem natural for Rockefeller to try again.

But he has run into some opposition within his own party, even to running for the governorship.

He seems bent on being governor again. Unless he withdrew as a presidential possibility, he faced the risk of being accused of seeking the governorship simply as a springboard for the presidential nomination. If he is not re-elected to the state house, he almost certainly will have no chance at the presidential nomination. If he is re-elected, there is always the chance he could be drafted as the GOP presidential candidate. Rockefeller didn't talk about anything like that on "Face the Nation."

He said that in 1964 the party position had crystallized around him and Goldwater and he thought it would pull the party together for him to withdraw now, which seems to be something he wasn't thinking of on July 16.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Have a 'Coffee Klatch'

DEAR ABBY: I've been married six years to a wonderful guy, until he gets to the table I can spend a whole day preparing a delicious meal and he looks at it like it's yesterday's left overs. He examines everything I put in front of him like it has poison in it. He never tells me what he likes, but nine out of ten things I prepare he does not like. He thinks meat should come without fat, and I feel guilty when he carves every little bite down to practically nothing. You can imagine the strain it puts on me at meal time I haven't enjoyed a meal for months.

It's not that I can't cook. I can. His mother is a terrible cook, and he's been in the service, so I don't understand where he picked up these fussy eating habits. I honestly don't know what to do.

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: Have a little chat with hubby when you are both relaxed and away from the table. Tell him how hard you try to please him, and ask for his cooperation in planning the meals. If he makes no effort to help you, you'll know that his problem is not what HE'S eating — but what's eating HIM.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and am going with a wonderful boy who is 25. I told my parents he is only 19. I hate to lie, but in this case I had to because if they knew how old he was they would never let me go out with him. We always have to sneak around and hope we don't see anybody we know. I am not ashamed of him, Abby, and there is nothing wrong with him but I just can't let my folks know the whole truth about him. I am getting fed up with having to sneak around like a couple of criminals. I think too much of him to break up with him. I just don't know what to do. Can you help me?

DARK EYES
DEAR DARK EYES: There is something wrong with him. He is cooperating in the deception of your parents. Tell them how old he is. If they object, accept it with grace and they might surprise you and allow you to date him.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is 47 and has been divorced 14 years. She's lived alone in her own home all those years. She has supported herself and has always been a wonderful, uncomplaining woman. She's often "kidded" about finding a boy friend. Now it seems she's found one. Pete (not his real name) has been divorced twice. He drinks more than he should and he also gambles. (He can't afford it.) He seldom takes my mother-in-law anywhere, but has been making himself more and more at home at her place. He's stayed all night and this we strongly disapprove of. We know she's lonely, but how come he never needed a man for 14 years and now all of a sudden he needs one? She says she either intends to marry him or break off with him. All she wants is "companionship." Should we tell her that if she continues to see him we'll have nothing further to do with her?

VEXED
DEAR VEXED: If you have let her know that you disapprove of her relationship with him, you've done all you can do. Do not punish her by "having nothing further to do with her," or Pete will become her whole life. Hope that she sees the light soon.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller must have thought a lot in nine days for within that time he decided to do what he had said would be meaningless to do.

He discussed the question of any 1968 presidential ambitions and closed the door on himself. But this wouldn't be the first time he did something like that and changed his mind.

What made it remarkable about taking himself out of the presidential race this early is that the Republican field is as wide open as at any time in history.

His party, still trying to pick itself up off the floor after its 1964 disaster, has been mute about practically everything, including the 1968 presidential race.

At this moment no one among the Republicans, including Rockefeller, looks like more than a mere possibility for the GOP nomination three years from now.

Rockefeller, twice elected New York's governor, told a news conference July 16 he would definitely seek a third term in 1966. Winning that, of course, would keep him in public life.

That, in turn, would give him a good foundation for seeking the presidential nomination. But would he try for the presidency three years from now? He avoided a direct answer to newsmen at the July 16 conference.

Instead, he said "We are so far away from 1968 it is meaningless" to discuss it. He added: "I am not giving it time or thought."

Then Sunday on the CBS program "Face the Nation," he said he would not be a GOP presidential candidate in 1968 or any other year. He ruled himself out forever. He said something like that once before.

On Dec. 26, 1959, he said he would not be a candidate in the 1960 race. He closed the door on himself that time after touring the country and finding Vice President Richard M. Nixon was away out in front.

He said then his "decision was definite and final."

As the 1960 nominating convention drew near he had second thoughts, although it is hard to see why since Nixon was still away out in front all by himself. Rockefeller announced he'd be willing to be drafted.

Nixon got the 1960 nomination and lost the election. In 1964, when the field was as wide open as now, Rockefeller fought and campaigned for the nomination and actually said he wanted it.

Burgess Sets Record for Pinch Hitters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If a little Go-Go went when Forrest Harill Burgess came to the Chicago White Sox, they haven't missed it. In a pinch, Old Smoky gives the Sox plenty of bounce to the ounce.

Burgess, paunchy, 38-year-old strongman of Al Lopez' bench, broke the major league record for pinch-swingers Sunday with a two-run double — the 108th pinch hit of his 16-year career — as the White Sox divided a doubleheader with Detroit.

The veteran catcher's hit, which keyed an eight-run sixth-inning rally in Chicago's 10-6 first-game victory, moved him one ahead of Red Lucas, who had 107 pinch-hits for three National League clubs from 1928-38.

"The thing that makes Smoky a great pinch hitter is the fact that he is always swinging and gets a piece of the ball," Lopez said after the second game, which the Tigers won 13-2 with a four-homer barrage. "He's not too fussy where the ball is. He just takes his cuts."

Burgess can't recall his first pinch hit — one of 12 he stroked in 1949, his rookie year with the Chicago Cubs — but he'll have a memento of No. 108, if Coopers-town doesn't put in a claim for it.

"I've got a little X marked on the ball I hit for the record," he said. "The people at the Hall of Fame can have it, or the one I hit to tie the record against the Yankees (a two-run single last Wednesday night)."

While Chicago and Detroit were splitting their twin bill, the Minnesota Twins, paced by Tony Oliva and Zoilo Versalles, came from four runs behind and whipped Baltimore 8-5, stretching their American League lead over the second-place Orioles to 3½ games.

Cleveland and New York split a doubleheader, the Indians taking the nightcap 7-4 behind the hitting of Fred Whitfield after the Yankees won 3-0 on Mel Stottlemyre's four-hitter. Washington beat Kansas City 4-3 in the first of a pair on a bases-loaded walk in the ninth but dropped the second game 5-3. Boston edged Los Angeles 5-4 in a single game.

In National League action Chicago blanked Pittsburgh 5-0 after bowing 3-2 in the 13-inning opener; Philadelphia and New York also split, the Mets winning the first game 8-1 and the Phillies rebounding 3-1; Cincinnati topped Houston 3-1; Los Angeles trimmed St. Louis 5-1 and San Francisco nipped Milwaukee 2-1.

The Twins struck for four runs in the eighth, three on Oliva's 17th homer, to tie Baltimore, then won it in the ninth on Versalles' two-run triple and Oliva's sacrifice fly. Rookie John Miller checked Minnesota on two hits, one a homer by Jimmie Hall, until the eighth-inning uprising. Brooks Robinson homered for the Orioles.

Whitfield rapped four hits, including a three-run homer, in the Indians' second-game victory over the Yankees before 56,634, the largest Cleveland crowd since June 17, 1962. Whitfield's homer was his fifth against New York pitching this season.

Stottlemyre breezed to his 11th victory in the first game, Joe Pepitone and Tom Tresh backing him with solo homers.

Ken Harrelson lashed a pinch-hit double in the seventh inning and scored the go-ahead run for Kansas City in the nightcap at Washington, then added a ninth-inning homer. Pitcher John O'Donoghue's homer helped the A's build a 3-0 lead before the

Little Loop Stars Split Twin Bill

The Circleville Little League All-Stars split a twin bill with Worthington Sunday, taking the first 11-3 but being nipped 8-3 in the second.

Tom Bowers proved to be the All Star's star as he went three for three from the plate and collected the mound win. He went the distance for the locals, walking three, fanning two and allowing five hits.

Manahan was charged with the loss for Worthington. He was relieved in the fourth by Hedge, who finished.

Rod Kasler belted the long ball of the day as he smashed a homer. He added to that two singles, as did Terry Morrison, Mark Lutz and Richard Radcliff. Mike Webb tagged one single and Bowers blasted three.

GUGLIELMI blasted a two bagger for the out-of-towners. Salvage, Woods, Guglielmi and Bartlett each bagged a single.

The Stars were ahead 4-2 in the fourth when the locals tallied seven and held Worthington to one in the fifth.

The Stars only managed two hits in the second tilt and the out-of-towners blasted seven bingles, four going for extra bases.

Guglielmi and Gilbert popped three sackers for Worthington. Salvage and Hedge tagged two baggers and Albright and Brinkman hammered singles with Albright tagging two.

Marion Long and Dave Ogan managed the Stars' only hits, both singles.

Mack was awarded the mound win for Worthington. He fanned 10 as he went the distance.

Rick Blankenship started for the locals and was pulled in the fifth. Rod Kasler finished.

Redlegs Set For Vital Duel With Bums

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The last time the Cincinnati Reds met Los Angeles, earlier this month, the Reds wrested the National League lead from the Dodgers. Tonight, with Jim Maloney on the mound, they'll try to do it again.

The Reds arrived in Los Angeles fresh from a 3-1 victory over Houston and one game behind in the standings—a situation similar to that on July 5 when the Dodgers came to Crosley Field for a three-game series.

When the series was over the Reds were on tap. They stayed there for ten days and slipped to second, but have been climbing up again on their current road trip, winning four games and losing two.

Don Pavletich and Leo Cardenas drove in the Reds' runs in their final game at Houston Sunday, while Billy McCool saved the victory for John Tsitouris by a tremendous job of pitching.

Pavletich doubled with two out in the fourth to score Frank Robinson, who had opened the inning with a double. The other two runs came in the ninth inning after the Astros had given the Reds a bad scare.

Deron Johnson led off with a double in the ninth and, one out later, John Edwards drew a walk. Cardenas then sent them both across with a double down the middle.

Mosquito Tourney Scheduled Tonight at Two Diamonds

The post season Mosquito League tournament gets under way tonight with Mac's Goodyear playing Pickaway Dairy at the Atwater diamond and Archer Sporting Goods tangling with Block's Shoes on the South Court diamond.

Action Wednesday night pits Ankrom and Circleville Lumber on the Atwater site and Hill Implement and Prairie Lanes at South Court.

The tournament continues Thursday with semi finals slated Aug. 2 and 3. The finals are Aug. 5. The three games will be played under the lights at Ted Lewis Park.

The Mosquito League ended in a three way tie for first place.

THE KNIGHTS of Columbus, Hill Implement and Cook's Insurance all finished the season with 7-2 records.

Circleville Lumber won six and lost three. Ankrom Lumber was next with a 5-4 record for the season and Prairie Lanes had four wins in nine starts.

Rounding out the league standings are Block's Shoes, Archer's Sporting Goods and Mac's Goodyear. All had two wins against seven losses.

Kathy Whitworth Cops Tournament

CINCINNATI (AP) — Kathy Whitworth won the $10,000 Buckeye Savings Association ladies pro golf tournament with a 20-foot putt and said she was happy she did not have to go into a playoff.

Miss Whitworth, of San Antonio, Texas, started the final 18 - hole round Sunday four strokes behind Susie Maxwell of Oklahoma City. She shot a two-under par 70 for a 54-hole total of 207, while Miss Maxwell blew to a three-over-par 75 in the Cloverbrook Country Club course and finished with a 208.

The 207 total—nine under par—was a 54-hole ladies' tournament record both in score and in sub-par figures.

Jacksonville Cops Makeup Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Anyone who believes a professional baseball player has an easy life should interview members of the Jacksonville and Rochester teams in the International League.

Sunday, the two teams played their fourth consecutive doubleheader to make up a series rained out earlier in the season. Not only did they play two games, but the second went into extra innings.

Rochester lost both games. The Suns won the first 5-0 and then rallied to win the second 5-4 in 10 innings.

Elsewhere in the league, last place Buffalo ambushed the league leading Columbus Jets twice 2-0 and 6-1; Syracuse shut out second place Atlanta 3-0 and Toronto swept a pair from Toledo, 5-4 and 3-2.

Bill Casper Diets, Wins Fat Purse

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — What's with professional golfer Billy Casper and his diet?

Since April he has trimmed his weight from 220 pounds to 175 and his waistline from 40 inches to 34. He says he never felt better in his life.

You have to believe that because the slimmer he has been getting, the more PGA tournaments he has been winning, the latest being his second Insurance City Open victory in three years.

In blistering heat, the 34-year-old Casper rolled in a 20-foot birdie putt to beat 29-year-old Johnny Pott on the first extra hole in a sudden death playoff for the ICO title Sunday. It was worth $11,000 to him and $6,200 to Pott.

Burgess Sets Record for Pinch Hitters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If a little Go-Go went when Forrest Harrill Burgess came to the Chicago White Sox, they haven't missed it. In a pinch, Old Smoky gives the Sox plenty of bounce to the ounce.

Burgess, paunchy, 38-year-old strongman of Al Lopez' bench, broke the major league record for pinch-swingers Sunday with a two-run double — the 108th pinch hit of his 16-year career — as the White Sox divided a doubleheader with Detroit.

The veteran catcher's hit, which keyed an eight-run sixth-inning rally in Chicago's 10-6 first-game victory, moved him one ahead of Red Lucas, who had 107 pinch-hits for three National League clubs from 1928-38.

"The thing that makes Smoky a great pinch hitter is the fact that he is always swinging and gets a piece of the ball," Lopez said after the second game, which the Tigers won 13-2 with a four-homer barrage. "He's not too fussy where the ball is. He just takes his cuts."

Burgess can't recall his first pinch hit — one of 12 he stroked in 1949, his rookie year with the Chicago Cubs — but he'll have a memento of No. 108, if Coopers-town doesn't put in a claim for it.

"I've got a little X marked on the ball I hit for the record," he said. "The people at the Hall of Fame can have it, or the one I hit to tie the record against the Yankees (a two-run single last Wednesday night)."

While Chicago and Detroit were splitting their twin bill, the Minnesota Twins, paced by Tony Oliva and Zoilo Versalles, came from four runs behind and whipped Baltimore 8-5, stretching their American League lead over the second-place Orioles to 3½ games.

Cleveland and New York split a doubleheader, the Indians taking the nightcap 7-4 behind the hitting of Fred Whitfield after the Yankees won 3-0 on Mel Stottlemyre's four-hitter. Washington beat Kansas City 4-3 in the first of a pair on a bases-loaded walk in the ninth but dropped the second game 5-3. Boston edged Los Angeles 5-4 in a single game.

In National League action Chicago blanked Pittsburgh 5-0 after bowing 3-2 in the 13-inning opener; Philadelphia and New York also split, the Mets winning the first game 8-1 and the Phillies rebounding 3-1; Cincinnati topped Houston 3-1; Los Angeles trimmed St. Louis 5-1 and San Francisco nipped Milwaukee 2-1.

The Twins struck for four runs in the eighth, three on Oliva's 17th homer, to tie Baltimore, then won it in the ninth on Versalles' two-run triple and Oliva's sacrifice fly. Rookie John Miller checked Minnesota on two hits, one a homer by Jimmie Hall, until the eighth-inning uprising. Brooks Robinson homered for the Orioles.

Whitfield rapped four hits, including a three-run homer, in the Indians' second-game victory over the Yankees before 56,634, the largest Cleveland crowd since June 17, 1962. Whitfield's homer was his fifth against New York pitching this season.

Stottlemyre breezed to his 11th victory in the first game, Joe Pepitone and Tom Tresh backing him with solo homers.

Ken Harrelson lashed a pinch-hit double in the seventh inning and scored the go-ahead run for Kansas City in the nightcap at Washington, then added a ninth-inning homer. Pitcher John O'Donoghue's homer helped the A's build a 3-0 lead before the

Fayette County Fair Has Five Nights of Racing

WASHINGTON C. H. — The five day race card at the Fayette County Fair, scheduled to begin tomorrow, is termed "the best ever" by the fair speed committee.

Members of the committee include the veteran standardbred horsemen, Eddie and McKinley Kirk along with John Sagar.

Post time nightly at the Fayette Fair is 8:15 p.m.

Total purses will run to nearly $20,000 and many of the near-west's top drivers and top horses will be vying for their share of the money.

The speed committee lists 257 eligibles for the four Ohio Colt Racing Assn. stakes which highlight the five night card.

Senators tied it on Ken Hamlin's two-run double and a homer by Don Lock.

After issuing two straight intentional walks, Kansas City reliever Don Mossi walked Willie Kirkland on four straight pitches, forcing in the winning run in the Washington opener.

The Senators' Ken McMullen scored one run and drove in two with a double and triple.

Tony Conigliaro got Boston off to an early lead with a two-run homer and, after the Angels pulled even, Frank Malzone doubled home the deciding run in the fifth. Pitcher Marcelino Lopez homered and doubled for the Angels.

Little Loop Stars Split Twin Bill

The Circleville Little League All-Stars split a twin bill with Worthington Sunday, taking the first 11-3 but being nipped 8-3 in the second.

Tom Bowers proved to be the All Star's star as he went three for three from the plate and collected the mound win. He went the distance for the locals, walking three, fanning two and allowing five hits.

Manahan was charged with the loss for Worthington. He was relieved in the fourth by Hedge, who finished.

Rod Kasler belted the long ball of the day as he smashed a homer. He added to that two singles, as did Terry Morrison, Mark Lutz and Richard Radcliff. Mike Webb tagged one single and Bowers blasted three.

GUGLIEMI blasted a two bagger for the out-of-towners. Salvage, Woods, Guglielmi and Bartlett each bagged a single.

The Stars were ahead 4-2 in the fourth when the locals tallied seven and held Worthington to one in the fifth.

The Stars only managed two hits in the second tilt and the out-of-towners blasted seven bingles, four going for extra bases.

Guglielmi and Gilbert popped three sackers for Worthington. Salvage and Hedge tagged two baggers and Albright and Brinkman hammered singles with Albright tagging two.

Marion Long and Dave Ogan managed the Stars' only hits, both singles.

Mack was awarded the mound win for Worthington. He fanned 10 as he went the distance.

Rick Blankenship started for the locals and was pulled in the fifth. Rod Kasler finished.

Absence of Racial Demonstrations
Helps in Passage of Housing Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —
Complete absence of Statehouse demonstrations made possible the enactment of Ohio's ban on racial discrimination in sale and rental of housing, officials agreed today.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, with assent from legislative leaders, sent an ultimatum early in the session to leaders of racial and other groups advocating so called fair housing.

"We told them they could have either a law or an issue," John McElroy the governor's administrative assistant, recalled.

Rhodes said he would sign any fair housing act reaching his desk.

But McElroy warned that repetition of demonstrations staged during the 1963 General Assembly could nullify chances for any housing law.

Two years ago fair housing died in committee as racially mixed demonstrators marched at the Capitol and the Governor's Mansion, sat or reclined in the legislative halls and executive offices, and chained themselves to seats in the House gallery.

Effectiveness of the truce was shown when some leaders of the demonstrations two years ago watched quietly from the House gallery during the vote by representatives on the Senate-approved housing measure.

Senators accepted house changes two days later to make the act more strict.

Ohio's lone Negro state senator and two state representatives said the act should have been stronger but expressed gratification over enactment.

More than one-third of Ohio's three million housing units are covered by the ban against discrimination on grounds of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

Representatives nearly doubled coverage by lowering senate approved exemptions for "personal", owner - occupied dwellings from four units to two.

Another change expanded the exemption for single residences to include homes vacated by owners until sold or occupied by another.

The discrimination ban applies to all "commercial" dwellings unoccupied by owners, to brokers offering them for sale or rent and to financing terms for purchasers.

Outlawed are restrictive covenants which the U. S. Supreme Court has declared unconstitutional publication of discriminatory advertisements, "block-busting" tactics and representation that commercial housing is unavailable for inspection when it actually is.

Religious, charitable and fraternal organizations are permitted to exercise occupancy preference for members and communicants.

The Ohio Civil Rights Commission is charged with enforcing fair housing along with present public accommodation laws.

In appeals from housing decisions of the commission, courts must require posting of a bond before granting relief or issuing a restraining order.

Regulations require the commission and its examiners to consider only "reliable proba-tive and substantial" evidence in all fair housing proceedings.

Conclusions and findings of fact must be stated by the commission in any decision that unlawful discrimination is practiced and no one can be required to testify against himself at hearings.

FARMED OUT—Outfielder Al
Ferrara of the Dodgers has been farmed to Spokane of the Pacific Coast League following his arrest on suspicion of drunken driving. A spokesman said that the move came partly because of that and partly because of his .179 batting average.

owners until sold or occupied by another.

The discrimination ban applies to all "commercial" dwellings unoccupied by owners, to brokers offering them for sale or rent and to financing terms for purchasers.

Outlawed are restrictive covenants which the U. S. Supreme Court has declared unconstitutional publication of discriminatory advertisements, "block-busting" tactics and representation that commercial housing is unavailable for inspection when it actually is.

Religious, charitable and fraternal organizations are permitted to exercise occupancy preference for members and communicants.

The Ohio Civil Rights Commission is charged with enforcing fair housing along with present public accommodation laws.

In appeals from housing decisions of the commission, courts must require posting of a bond before granting relief or issuing a restraining order.

Regulations require the commission and its examiners to consider only "reliable probative and substantial" evidence in all fair housing proceedings.

Conclusions and findings of fact must be stated by the commission in any decision that unlawful discrimination is practiced and no one can be required to testify against himself at hearings.

Area Community Night Is Slated At Scioto Downs

Wednesday is Circleville-Williamsport-Ashville night at Scioto Downs.

Free ducats for the grandstand area are available at most local business establishments and at The Herald.

Tonight marks the beginning of the Mid American Racing Assn. meet at Scioto Downs. It will run through Sept. 14.

11-Stroke Edge Wins for Player

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Open champion Gary Player, who said he just couldn't get going in the final round, emerged as an 11-stroke victor in the four-day National Challenge golf match.

Player took the $20,000 first prize as he rounded out a 72-hole total of 269 at nearby Lakewood Country Club Sunday.

Going into the final round Player was leading U.S. amateur champion Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., by 16 strokes. He shot a two over par 73, his worst score of the four rounds, but still won running away.

Meanwhile, Jack Nicklaus, with his second straight 66, squeaked into second place with a four-day total of 280. If there were any doubts that Player was falling off, they were dispelled by Nicklaus, however.

Florida is the only state in the Union where jai-alai, an ancient Spanish game, is played. The state has six jai-alai frontons, which draw approximately 1,000,000 spectators a year.

Old Casey Breaks Hip

Stengel, Now 75, Awaits Surgery

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel, perhaps the most colorful of all baseball's storied characters and a legend in his own time, lay in a hospital bed today, rigid in traction and wracked with pain, awaiting surgery on a fractured left hip.

"At his age, any such surgery has to be considered serious," Dr. Peter La Motte said of the famed Ol' Perfesser, field boss and guiding spirit of the New York Mets, one-time leader of the Yankees and for 55 years a baseball figure.

Dr. La Motte, Met team physician, said Stengel suffered a displaced fracture of the left hip when he fell stepping out of a car early Sunday, on the eve of his 75th birthday celebration scheduled between games of a Met doubleheader at Shea Stadium.

The seriousness of the injury was not known until Stengel awoke Sunday in severe pain at the home of Met controller Joe DeGregorio.

He was rushed by ambulance to Roosevelt Hospital, placed in traction and given sedatives to relieve the pain.

A series of tests was scheduled today. The operation will be performed either Tuesday or Wednesday. Stengel will be hospitalized for about three weeks, and presumably will have a longer convalescent period at his home in Glendale, Calif.

The injury made it doubtful Stengel will rejoin the Mets this season and raised even more questions about his future with the struggling darlings of New York's New Breed.

To straighten a monofilament fly leader, try pulling it hard through a folded piece of inner tube.

School Fund Bill To Face Senate Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to allocate $634 million in Ohio Senate today as lawmakers prepared an intensive drive toward final adjournment.

The record high measure came out of the Senate Education Committee last week $9 million more than the version approved by the House. If the Senate approves, it will be returned to the lower chamber for consideration of amendments.

Legislative leaders said it may go to a joint conference committee.

The school foundation bill is one of the last big obstacles to adjournment of the long session which began last Jan. 4, but other thorny problems remain.

Among them are reapportionment, state pensions, state officials' pay raises, strip mining, and the "fair bus" bill which once again is creating strong public reaction.

A group of Protestant ministers who formed an organization they call "Ohioans Against the Bus Bill" plan a rally at the Statehouse tonight to protest against the measure which extends bus transportation to private and parochial pupils.

They predicted a turnout of 1,000 for the demonstration which will come about an hour before the House Finance Committee opens hearings on cost of the Senate-passed proposal.

Both houses of the assembly are expected to call for floor votes this week on separate reapportionment proposals already approved by their respective committees. The Senate plan would shape new districts for the House only while the lower chamber's plan calls for new senatorial districts and annual sessions of the General Assembly which now meets only in odd-numbered years.

The bill to tighten controls on strip mining remained bogged down in a joint conference committee with Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-Belmont, insisting on restoration of reclamation provisions removed by the House Mines and Natural Resources Committee.

They would give the chief of the reclamation division authority to deny operating permits for lands deemed not reclaimable and to require doubling of bond on lands unduly difficult to reclaim.

Speculation continued today over whether the House Rules Committee will spring the controversial Sunday liquor bill for a vote in the assembly's closing days. The powerful committee has had the measure for two weeks.

The Senate earlier passed the bill, with House amendments, would permit Sunday sales after 1 p.m. in counties of 200,000 or more population, subject to local voter approval.

The House is expected to reject Senate amendments to a bill hiking the pay of top state officials, including the governor. Sponsors balked at a Senate change giving the lieutenant governor a $12,000-a-year increase instead of $7,000. That office now pays $8,000.

Senators also boosted the governor's raise by $5,000, proposing a salary of $40,000 as compared to the $25,000 he now gets.

Constance Bennett Dies At Age 59

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Constance Bennett's patrician beauty, her ability to wear stunning clothes and her brittle comedy established her as a top performer in the sophisticated films of the 1930s.

"Listen," she once said, "there are worlds to enjoy that aren't made of mink and sables. And the world of mink and sables isn't free of drudgery and heartaches. It's all what you make it."

When she died of a cerebral hemorrhage Saturday at the age of 59, Miss Bennett had known five marriages, a film career which spanned four decades and a reputation as a shrewd businesswoman.

Best known for her role as the fetching female ghost of the "Topper" films — later redone into a popular television series — Miss Bennett came from a theatrical family to star in 47 motion pictures.

Her father was Richard Bennett, a popular actor of his day, and her sisters actress Joan Bennett and the late Barbara Bennett, an actress and dancer who died in 1958.

At the time of her death Miss Bennett was married to Brig. Gen. John Theron Coulter, commander of the New York Air Defense sector based at McGuire Air Force Base.

Funeral Services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Frank E. Campbell Funeral Home, New York City, with burial Wednesday at Arlington National Cemetery.

1. Inquire into the causes of crime and delinquency, measures for their prevention, the adequacy of law enforcement and administration of justice and the factors encouraging respect or disrespect for law at the national and local levels.

The commission is authorized to make studies, conduct hearings and request information it deems appropriate.

2. Develop standards and make recommendations for actions which can be taken by the federal, state and local governments and by private persons and organizations to prevent, reduce and control crime and increase respect for law.

The commission's recommendations may include ways to improve training and qualifications of persons engaged in law enforcement, improvements in the administration of justice, improvements in correction and rehabilitation of convicted offenders and juvenile delinquents.

Still another function will be the promotion of better understanding between law officials and members of the community. The executive order said all executive departments and agencies must cooperate with the commission and furnish information and assistance as it may require.

Purses totalling more than $18,000 will draw upwards of 150 of the best harness horses here for the five nights of racing.
